

Article Processing Charge (APC) Policy

The Indian Journal of Animal Nutrition (IJAN) does not charge any Article Processing Charge (APC) for manuscripts submitted and accepted for publication until 31 December 2027. During this period, publication costs are fully waived for all authors.

Effective 1 January 2028, an Article Processing Charge (APC) of USD 500 per accepted manuscript may apply. The APC will be charged only after a manuscript has successfully completed the peer-review process and has been accepted for publication.

The APC supports the costs associated with manuscript processing, editorial management, production, online hosting, and long-term archiving of published articles.
